

Bridges2Honduras

Welcome Our New Brothers and Sisters in Christ

Thank you for your continued prayers on our behalf. Below is a list of our daily prayer requests.

Sunday

Visitors that are attending our services

Monday

That our plans and actions are guided directly by God and that He gets the glory in everything we do

Tuesday

Our Spanish language proficiency

Wednesday

Individual Bible studies with non-believers

Thursday

Mid-week group Bible study in our home

Friday

DESEO program and Youth group

Saturday

CRESCO Program

In our May newsletter we asked for prayers for a number of people with whom we have been studying. We have exciting news to share with each of you. Since our last newsletter, six more individuals have given their lives to Christ. Join us in praise to our Heavenly Father for the decisions of Tito, Irma S., Vilma A., Monseratt, Carolina, and Tanchito. Please pray for those who are still searching for the truth.

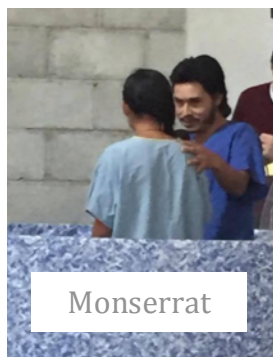

Tito

Tanchito

Carolina

Monseratt

Vilma

Irma S.

Visiting our Supporters in the USA a.k.a. Family and Friends

Kris flew back to the US in the middle of July, almost one week after the completion of the medical brigade we mentioned in our last newsletter. She flew up to the Northwest to visit with her parents, brother, and sisters and other supporters. At the end of the July, we all met back up in South Carolina and prepared for our cross-country road trip!

We traveled from Lexington, SC to Atlanta, GA; Nashville, TN; Searcy, AR; Cabot, AR; Tulsa, OK; Edmond, OK; Lubbock, TX; Plano, TX, Richardson, TX; Fort Worth, TX, Tyler, TX; Aiken, SC; Daniels Island, SC; Greenwood, SC; back to Lexington for a week and then finally back to Atlanta to fly home. What an amazing trip! We were encouraged by our family (both physical and spiritual) and our friends; who have blessed us by partnering with us on this journey, through prayers, encouraging words, as well as financially.

While in Lubbock, we dropped off our youngest son, Mason, to attend the Adventures in Missions (AIM) program, which is part of the Sunset International Bible Institute (SIBI). This is the same program Michael and I attended so many years ago that changed our lives forever. We are so thankful that another son of our will be attending this year.

Though our trip was long and at times tiring, we are so grateful for every moment we spent with those we love. If you missed out this year, let us know that you would like a visit and we will see if we can work it in next summer when we travel back to take Kaylee to AIM!

New Additions to the team

As we mentioned in our last newsletter, our attendance at our meetings continue to grow as well as individuals wanting to study one on one. This is a blessing and it's why we are here, but we began to wonder how we were going to get it all done. We took Jesus' advice when He said, "The harvest is plentiful but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field." We are thanking God that he answered our prayers with a "yes".

We are blessed to have Joshua Guill and Kenan Pitman, two AIMers (apprentice missionaries from the Adventures in Missions program) move to Corquín to help us work with the youth here as well as studies as they are able. We are excited to have them and look forward to seeing what God has in store for them and those whose lives they will touch.

In addition to the AIMers, we are excited to announce that Landon Anderson is planning on moving to Corquín when he returns from his trip to the States the end of September. Landon has been working with Mission UpReach at the Moses Project and was kind enough to come stay at our house while we were in the States and continue both our group and individual studies. It was such a blessing to have him here, as he was able to keep the continuity of studies going. As it so happens, while here, he fell in love with the people and the work and decided to continue working along side of us.

Kenan

Joshua

Landon

Kaylee's Korner

I feel like it's been a while since I wrote one of these "Kaylee's Korner"s.

In the middle of June I flew for the first time without my parents to visit with my friends in South Carolina and to attend a youth retreat called IMPACT with my home church.

The plan was to stay in the States for three weeks then head back to Honduras with the medical brigade that was going to be working in Corquín. However, the day before we were going to go, I tried to pick a fight with gravity... and ended up with a broken fibula. So, instead of flying back, I stayed an extra three weeks before being reunited with my parents. In the meantime, I went to Palmetto Bible Camp, which is in the mountains near Greenville.

It was eye opening to see how much I take my legs for granted and how hard it is for the rest of my body to function when one of my legs doesn't work... (I feel like there is a life lesson buried in there somewhere!)

After camp, my parents, Mason (my brother), and I went on a grand road trip visiting family, friends, and supporters. Mason came because he just joined Adventures In Missions (a missionary apprenticeship program), which is in Lubbock, Texas and we were going to drop him off.

During the trip, it was really cool getting to meet a lot of people who I knew by name from my parent's stories but hadn't met or hadn't seen since I was three.

I finally got my cast off, and just in time before we left for Honduras on August 26. When we got back to our house we were greeted with a surprise party organized by the people in Corquín celebrating our return and my belated 17th birthday. They decorated half the house with balloons, signs and other party decorations. It made me feel really loved and at home in Corquín. Though... they nearly gave me a heart attack when I stepped into the room and they switched on the lights and screamed, "Surprise!"

All in all, the summer was busy and very eventful, but right now I'm glad to be back home in Honduras.

Check out my latest video update (you will need to copy link and paste into your browser):

<https://youtu.be/1z-z2Q-wR-g>

How to contact us:

Michael: Michael.b@missionupreach.org

Kris: Kris.b@missionupreach.org

Kaylee: Kayleekbridges42@gmail.com

To donate online: Go to the "Missions" tab
at www.lexingtonchurch.net